Audio Input (the Almost Easy Way)

How the TranscriptOMatic should operate is, to connect to Discord voice using a dedicated Discord account for this purpose. During sessions, the Discord client (Legcord) will join the discord voice session.

To reduce complexity, no microphone or speaker is attached to the device.

> This setup makes it possible to capture only a single audio source. If you want to adapt this concept to a device you are actively using, you also need to capture your microphone input — Discord does not play your own voice back to you.
